Greetings Everyone,

I hope everyone has had a good summer. It has certainly been a hot one. As we have gone through what I believe is the hottest summer on record, it has brought to the forefront where we stand with our water supply. It is certainly sad to drive around in the country and see how bad some of the crops have been. It has even been a struggle for those who have an adequate water supply. This has not been a problem that is unique to Colorado or a few selective states. This year it has affected many people nationwide. One of the things that results from a year like this is that we become much better at our jobs.

The nice thing about belonging to an organization like the CWWCA or the NGWA is that there is a vast amount of knowledge to tap into. As some of the wells approach the end of their usefulness, we have had to find more creative ways to extend the life of these wells or look for alternative water supplies. It is good to know that there are resources available to help us get the answers we are looking for.

Most of our customers already have a pretty good understanding of energy and water conservation. It is our job as contractors to educate them about new methods and technologies to help them achieve their goals. To help us achieve this, it is important that we bring the best education available to our contractors at our conferences. That is why your input is so valuable to the people who put together the programs. I would ask of you as contractors to become more actively involved in the CWWCA and help us achieve our goals.

I would like to thank the sponsors and everyone who worked so hard to make the Mid-Year conference in Breckenridge a success. I think we had a pretty good turnout and the program committee did a great job of putting together an outstanding program. Thanks to all those who attended, it was great seeing everybody there. Hope everyone has a good finish to the year and let us know if you have any ideas or comments.

Thanks for listening,

Gene Wagner

Did You Know?
-Injuries resulting from lifting were the number one cause of loss for the 2010-2011 policy period.

Slick Safety Tips

On the job prevention of injuries is key to keeping Workers' Comp premiums low and keeping those dividend checks coming.

Proper lifting techniques are simple, easy to follow and will help prevent back injuries.

Tip #1: Lift using your leg muscles, not your back muscles.

Tip #2: Maintain alignment between back, neck and spine.

Tip #3: Give yourself a good base and keep your feet spread apart.

Tip #4: If you are straining to lift the object by yourself then stop and get help.

Remember, prevention of back related injuries are easier than treatment of those injuries. So, be smart and stay safe!

Claims are the name of the game.

Make sure to report a claim in a timely manner, within 24-hours of the accident is ideal. Reporting the claim within 24-hours can save as much as six percent of the total cost of the claim. The goal is to get the employee healthy and back to work as soon as possible. Having those claims in earlier helps speed along the entire process.

Be sure to report claims even if you’re not sure whether the injury is job related or not. Make notes of any doubt on the validity of the claim, and provide that information when filing with Pinnacol.

The easiest way to file claims is online at www.pinnacol.com, select “Pinnacol ServiceLink”, then “Report an Injury.” Only the employer or authorized representative should report the claim, not the injured worker.

Can't get online? Call 1-800-873-7242 to file a report of a claim.

Prevention Pays Dividends...

Pinnacol Assurance employs the largest team of safety consultants in the state of Colorado. How does this benefit you? The Pinnacol Assurance safety consultants offer their services free of charge to policy holders! Don’t be shy, and take advantage of this great opportunity today by calling 1-800-873-7242.
